

Window on the Hahn/Above and Below Sue Hossack

Medium: Acrylic

Description: This window, with its cross bar, just begged to be done as a split scene of some sort, and since the subject is the Hahn Garden, I thought of plants, and how they grow, with the flowers Above and the roots Below. I enjoyed painting the flowers, saplings and pollinators. We have enough examples of acorns taking root in our yard and we see the cute chipmunks darting into their holes. I am a beekeeper so I love any excuse to paint bees!
